

EemsEnergyTerminal launches LNG open season

3 February 2025, Rotterdam, the Netherlands

EemsEnergyTerminal launches an open season for the storage and regassification of LNG after 2027 in the Eemshaven in the Netherlands. EemsEnergyTerminal is a subsidiary of Gasunie and Royal Vopak. The LNG terminal is developed in 2022 to increase energy security in the Netherlands and North West Europe.

EemsEnergyTerminal is inviting market parties to formulate a non-binding expression of interest (EOI). More information on the terminal and the open season is available on webpage EemsEnergy Terminal

Eemshaven - vision for the future

The partners are also making plans for further hydrogen development at the Eemshaven port and exploring options for CO₂-infrastructure in line with the transition to a more sustainable energy system.

About Royal Vopak

Royal Vopak helps the world flow forward. At ports around the world, we provide storage and infrastructure solutions for vital products that enrich everyday life. These products include liquids and gases that provide energy for homes and businesses, chemicals for manufacturing products, and edible oils for cooking. For all of these, our worldwide network of terminals supports the global flow of supply and demand. For more than 400 years, Vopak has been at the forefront of fundamental transformations. With a focus on safety, reliability, and efficiency, we create new connections and opportunities that drive progress. Now more than ever, our talented people are applying this mindset to support the energy transition. Together with our partners and customers, we are accelerating the development of infrastructure solutions for hydrogen, ammonia, CO₂, long-duration energy storage, and low-carbon fuels & feedstocks – paving the way to a more sustainable future. Vopak is listed on the Euronext Amsterdam and is headquartered in Rotterdam, the Netherlands.
